

2025 ANNUAL REPORT

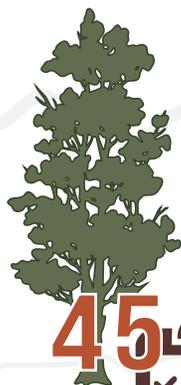

2025 was our tenth year as a non-profit and was defined by the over 800,000 acres of forests damaged by Hurricane Helene. Our staff adapted by opening trails and roads to improve fire breaks and access to disturbed areas. This access will be critical as we continue to assess damage, monitor forest regeneration and control the response by non-native invasive species.

Landowners are more engaged and have questions about what they can do to mitigate wildfire risk and improve the health of their forest. Forestry information was shared with thousands of landowners and workshops and training helped educate landowners of what they can do to control invasive plants.

Highlights of our work include over 16,000 acres under management, 45 plans and over 900 acres of invasive plants being put under control. 1,423 acres of forest were restored and regenerated through planting. And we continue to grow the number of acres that are storing carbon and receiving credits.

While thousands of acres of much needed wildlife habitat were created by the storm, it was unplanned. Our Wildlife Corridor Restoration project helped by planning for future invasive plants and habitat restoration. With your help, we can treat more acres of forest for non-native invasive species, restore newly created wildlife habitat, and remove excess debris from downed trees to reduce the severity of wildfires.
